Dr. Patricia Clancy Named 2019 NH Family Physician of the Year

The Dr. Patricia (Trish) Clancy was recently named the 2019 Family Physician of the Year by the New Hampshire Academy of Family Physicians during its annual conference at the Mount View Grand Resort.

This honor recognizes Dr. Clancy's more than 35 years of quality service and commitment to patients as a board-certified family physician at Concord Hospital's Pleasant Street Family Medicine practice.

Dr. Clancy received her bachelors and medical degree from Penn State University, completing a family medicine residency at Sacred Heart Hospital in Allentown, PA.

In addition to her family medicine practice, Dr. Clancy has been a long-time preceptor for medical students at the Geisel School of Medicine, as well as for residents from the Dartmouth-Concord Hospital Family Medicine Residency program. She also has served for more than a decade on the Concord Hospital Ethics Committee.

Dr. Clancy is active in local community service and activities through Christ the King Parish and the Concord Community Chorus. Trish and her husband, Dr. Rob Kiefner, reside in Concord and have three grown children.
